Oregon's NPs MP update is out for public comment now:

Also, Oregon posted its March 20, 2014 CZARA submittal to NOAA/EPA on its main NPS page here:

Steve,
Just to be clarify: EPA does not require, via the 319 grant guidelines or the NPS management plan guidance, that states provide for public review of NPS management programs. We encourage but don't require it. As a matter of state policy, many states do make these documents available for public comment. And if Region 10 can get their states to do so, more power to them!

I thought we were not planning to go out for public comment on our disapproval—just an announcement. Is that correct? When we approve programs, how do we announce our decision? Seems like we would use the same process.

In our states, we are requiring states to have a public comment period on their proposed NPS management plan updates. Is this what you are asking, Steve?

Steve, JB & Jeff,

My apologies for burdening you with my previous email (below). I believe we have already discussed this question with you. Jayne reminded me of where we landed, which I agree with. No need for you to respond unless you disagree with the approach described below. Thanks.

From Jayne:

I think we would explain our basis for disapproval. I do not believe we are requesting public comment on our basis or on the other MMs. Instead we would send a letter to the State moving New Development to our interim approval category (like we have done in the past). We plan to request public notice on all of our interim approvals once we can request public comments on an approval of the entire program. Agree?

Steve, JB & Jeff,

I am wondering how you think we should handle the scenario as we draft our Jan. 2015 decision document where we now believe Oregon has met one or more—but not all—of the management measures that provided the basis for our previous proposed finding (last December) that the state did not have an approvable CNPCP.

- Do we leave those MM rationales and decisions out of the final disapproval document?
- Do we include them as PROPOSED APPROVALS for public comment in an otherwise FINAL decision document that provides the basis for withholding grant funds?
- Is there some 3rd way you would recommend?

This gets tricky...

I saw that she added the following 2 new bullet headings, but did not supply any information around them:

- Concern Raised in Proposed Decision:

And

- Concerns raised during public comment period:

For the first bullet, I'd say "None."

As for filling in the second bullet, I'll need to get back with you and Jayne. I have a working file for the comments on New Dvpt and OSDS as I prepare for our response to comments document, but it is not with me now. But as I recall, there was no new information generated in the comments that I believe rise to the level of a real concern. Folks either agreed or disagreed with our Dec. 2013 proposed decision to disapprove OR's New Dvpt MM and none really challenged the basis we are now citing for approval, mostly because that information was not available until after March 20th. So the public has not been presented with a chance to comment on a decision to approve this MM.

That said, come January 2015, if we are now proposing approval for the New Dvpt MM, and disapproving even one other MM (e.g., Forestry—Landslides), then are we requesting public comments around our decision to accept/approve OR's program for addressing the New Dvpt MM? (I think this is a question for the lawyers.)

Yep. That was a big error on my part. Alan caught that yesterday and I already corrected. Thanks for taking a look. Do you have info on comments we received on new devel to add? See Jayne's added section for that.

All--

After our call, I went ahead and converted my "issue" paper on unsolicited comments into a shorter "update" for mngt. In doing so, I went ahead and took a stab at some of the other "updates" we wanted to share related to new devel, landslides, and a general update on responding to comments (we didn't discuss but thought this would be helpful).

The new devel and landslides are more of place holders for now so topic leads please revise as necessary. Not sure if this is the right level of detail for not for these items.
